Mellers is a city primary school for pupils aged from 3-11 years and is located in Nottingham. The school had a requirement for a covered walkway canopy to link the older building and newly built building together. Langley Design were pleased to work with Wates on this £3.1 million extension to come up with a visually appealing solution that was cost effective but large enough to cover the desired area. We manufactured and installed three separate timber canopies at varying sizes that were linked together to create this walkway canopy.
